Section G: Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully.

"Mum! Look what I found when I alighted at the bus stop!" I shouted excitedly. "Can we keep her?"

"Another one?" Mother teased. She was used to me bringing home stray animals. This kitten would be no different. It would have a home if it wanted to stay with us. After carefully cleaning its wounds and bathing the poor creature, I found that it was a beautiful, snowy white, long-haired kitten with sparkly blue eyes. I decided to name it Miss Feather because of its soft and silky coat.

One morning at breakfast, Mother suggested I give Miss Feather to our new neighbour, Judy. "She has no cats of her own and Molly, you have so many of them! You just think about it," advised Mother.

That night, I lay in bed and thought for a long time. I was really reluctant to give Miss Feather away but decided it would be a good idea to give her to Judy. She lived next door and I could still play with Miss Feather whenever I wanted. Judy was thrilled when I passed the purring kitten to her the next morning.

Many pure white cats with blue eyes are likely deaf, and Miss Feather was one of them. She needed constant and tender care. Judy was the perfect owner for her. No one would ever understand her needs as completely as Judy. Do you know why? Judy was also deaf.
