students of all ages!

Wide range of colours to choose from!

Designed with you in mind!

"I love my Peaks school bag! Everything I need for school fits comfortably into it. I can also find and take out any item I need easily!"

– Ansel, 12-year-old student

Text 2

The extract below is taken from an online article.

School bags are designed to be both roomy and trendy, which makes them appealing to students. Lately, more focus has been placed on making school bags look good. For many students, their school bag is also a way to express their personality and personal style. Is that true for you, too?

While it may seem exciting to fit everything into one bag, have you considered the weight? Carrying too many items strains your back. This may cause short-term discomfort and lead to long-term posture problems. To cushion the effect, you should carry a school bag that fits comfortably on your back. Features such as wide straps and padded backs help distribute the weight more evenly. By choosing a school bag wisely, you can reduce the pressure on your back.

Ultimately, health experts recommend packing only the items needed for the day to keep your school bag light. For example, store certain items in your school locker or keep some materials under your desk if your school allows it. By planning what you bring each day and leaving out unnecessary items, you can protect your back and still have everything you need.

For each question from 21 to 25, shade your answer (1, 2, 3 or 4) on the Optical Answer Sheet.

21 The slogan "Carry Everything in Style" suggests that the Peaks school bag is both _____.

- (1) large and expensive
- (2) useful and fashionable
- (3) colourful and comfortable
- (4) strong and easy to clean

22 Why was Ansel featured in Text 1?

- (1) He appears to be a good student.
- (2) Most school bag users are around his age.
- (3) His comments support the claims of the poster.
- (4) His review was short enough to fit into the poster.

23 Based on Text 1, which of the following statements are true about the Peaks school bag?

- A: The bag comes in different colours.
- B: The bag helps students organise their belongings
- C: The bag is designed to reduce pressure on students' backs.

- | | |
|-------------|----------------|
| (1) A and B | (2) A and C |
| (3) B and C | (4) A, B and C |

24 What is the main focus of Text 2?

- (1) Choose a school bag that looks attractive.
- (2) Avoid carrying too many unnecessary items.
- (3) Keep all school materials in lockers or under desks.
- (4) Buy a school bag with wide straps and padded backs.

25 Text 1 and Text 2 express differing views on whether _____.

- (1) school bags should look appealing to students
- (2) school bags can fit all books needed for school
- (3) students should fit everything into their school bags
- (4) students can keep their belongings in school lockers

Please note that the passage for Comprehension questions 66 to 75 in Booklet B is on the next page. You may now go on to Booklet B.

Refer to the passage below when you answer questions 66 to 75 in Booklet B.

The kindergarten classroom hummed with excitement as children streamed towards the various play corners. With lightning speed, Farid and Lina hurried to their favourite play corner. They took out plastic plates, toy fried eggs and miniature pancakes, and scattered them across a low table.

As usual, Lina handed Farid a tiny apron. With a grin, he took a bow and put on the apron. Then, he pretended to be the chef by raising his hands as if he were putting on a tall chef's hat. Lina appreciated Farid's kindness. Not many children wanted to play with someone who had hearing difficulties. Soon, the pair were immersed in their make-believe café. Farid arranged the eggs neatly onto the pancakes while Lina closed her eyes and pretended to sniff the aroma of the food.

Caught up in the moment, Lina reached blindly for a pancake. Her elbow clipped a tray, sending the toy food tumbling onto the floor behind her with a loud clatter. Unaware, she reached again but found only an empty space. Farid let out a short laugh before realising that Lina was tearing up and her shoulders were stiffening.

Leaning closer, Farid gently tapped her shoulder and motioned for her to turn around. As she gasped softly, he made a deliberate scooping motion with his hands. Lina's gaze followed his movement and her expression softened. Her fingers brushed against the scattered toy food on the floor. Nodding quickly, she crouched down to retrieve the toy food while Farid helped gather the remaining pieces. Just then, the teacher called for Farid and he left Lina to play on her own.

Moments later, a new wave of activity swept across the classroom. The teacher announced, "Clean up! Time for snack break!"

Chairs scraped against the floor as children hurried to return toys to their shelves. Yet Lina remained seated, oblivious to the sudden disruption behind her. She was enjoying her time pretending to feed a cartoon character on the wall poster in front of her.

A child rushing past accidentally knocked against the table, causing several plates to wobble dangerously. Lina glanced about uneasily, her brows furrowing as she looked across the room. Why was everyone moving so quickly?

Sensing that something was amiss, Farid's eyes swept across the room before settling on Lina. Understanding dawned on him as he realised what she had missed. He moved beside her and lightly tapped her shoulder again. As Lina looked up, he glanced at the children tidying the classroom. Then, slowly and carefully, he swept his hands together and pointed towards the toy basket.

Lina studied his face and hands. Realisation flickered across her features, and her tense shoulders relaxed. Farid waved to a few classmates, who came over to help. A grateful smile spread across Lina's face. As the children gathered the toy plates and placed them into the basket, Lina followed suit. Together, they finished tidying the play corner.

When they joined the line with their classmates, Lina caught Farid's eye and pressed her hand gently against her chest before extending it towards him. Farid nodded and returned her gesture. Neither of them spoke. Yet in that quiet moment, Lina's grateful smile and Farid's quiet nod said more than words could.

Last month, Hibiscus Primary School organised a Screen-Free Week to help students spend less time on their devices and interact more with others.

(36)

Teachers planned several steemulating activities that not only encouraged students to interact with classmates and also helped them discover new hobbies. Moreover, setting away time during recess to play or talk with their peers had forged stronger friendships.

(37)

(38)

(39)

By the end of the week, many had become fermilier with spending their free time away from their devices and had become less relyant on them.

(40)

(41)

The principal noted that many students had gained confidence by the activities and discussions held during the event, learnt to identify new ways to spend their free time and developing greater curious about trying new pastimes.

(42)

(43)

(44)

Many teachers regarded the event as a significant akomplishment because it helped pupils develop greater ristraynt when managing their screen time. The event encouraged students to make wise choices about their use of devices and to spend their time more meaningfully.
